Three vacant buildings, described as in "dis-repair", burned early Friday morning on the Galt Square. Galt Fire Protection District Chief Terry Wynne said the cause of the blaze was unknown. The State Fire Marshal's Office was NOT called to investigate.

Wynne noted the old brick buildings had been vacant for several years, and had fallen in before the fire. They once housed the Galt Grocery and Locker. The owner of the structures was not available for comment. The nearby Galt Lions Hall WAS NOT threatened by the blaze. Firefighters were on the scene about three hours. No injuries were reported.
