Brookfield High School won 1st place in the team competition and captured the top 3 individual places in contests at Math Exploration Day at North Central Missouri College in Trenton.

Members of Brookfield's 1st place team were Brock Wright, Ryan Elliott, and Andrew Crutcher.

Individual winners were 1st place Andrew Crutcher, 2nd place Ryan Elliott, and 3rd place Adam Palmer---all from Brookfield.

Gilman City was 2nd in the team competition. It's team members were Ashley Tucker, Dylan Sievering, and Alec Sievering.

Nearly 50 students participated in several activities and contests yesterday conducted by faculty from North Central Missouri College's Math and Science departments.

In addition to Brookfield and Gilman City, students from Grundy R-5, Osborn, North Mercer, and Stewartsville participated.

The event organizer was Lola Swint, who chairs the math department at North Central Missouri College.
