Faculty members at the Social Sciences department of North Central Missouri College are sponsoring a 'Presidential Trivia' contest on Tuesday, November 6th. Organizers say 'Celebrate Election Night' will be a non-partisan event in which participants can match their knowledge of presidential trivia while watching election returns.

The event is schedule to begin at 6:30 PM in the Sugg Room of the Ketcham Center on the NCMC campus in Trenton.

The contest will be for teams of five with a registration fee of $25.00 per team, and a first prize of $150.00. Teams may consist of students, teachers, or only member of the general public who wants to test their political knowledge. Individuals not having a full team may still register and an attempt will be made to add them to a team.

Pre-registration is required by Friday, November 2nd. Contact Stacy Ostertuhn at NCMC for more information at (660) 359-3948, Extension 1301 or sostertuhn@mail.ncmissouri.edu.
