The Highway Patrol says a young Kearney man was injured when a car, going the wrong direction on Interstate 35, hit a guardrail south of Cameron early Sunday morning. Eighteen year old Edward Stahl of Kearney was taken to Cameron Regional Medical Center with what the Highway Patrol called minor injuries.

The accident was four miles south of Cameron. The investigating officer said the car was northbound in the southbound lanes of I-35. The vehicle went off the left side of the road and hit a guardrail, demolishing the vehicle. The Patrol said it was unknown whether Stahl was wearing a seat belt.
