

Murder case involving an Eagleville woman moved to Grundy County

<http://www.kttn.com/kgozfm/modules/news/article.php?storyid=18714>

Murder case involving an Eagleville woman moved to Grundy County

News

Posted by : Tom

Posted on : 2012/12/28 13:42:49

A Harrison County case charging an Eagleville woman in the death of her eight-month old daughter has been transferred to Grundy County on a change of venue. Twenty-three year old Nicole Lister of Eagleville is charged with second degree murder and child abuse, relating to incidents occurring in September.

She is accused, in the second degree murder charge, of causing 'traumatic' injuries to the child and not obtaining medical treatment for the child prior to the death. Ms. Lister is accused, in the child abuse charge, of inflicting cruel punishment causing multiple bruises and abrasions found to be in various stages of healing. The case is to be heard in Division One of Grundy County Circuit Court.