

Jamesport dairy business has license reinstated

News

Posted by : Tom

Posted on : 2013/1/25 14:39:28

The State Milk Board has announced that the plant license for Homestead Creamery of Jamesport has been reinstated. The facility was re-inspected by the Missouri State Milk Board on Tuesday. As a result, the license to process manufacturing grade dairy products was reinstated.

Homestead Creamery was notified Wednesday of the inspection results and reinstatement.

Consumers who may have products included in this month's voluntary withdrawal of Homestead Creamery's "Flory's Favorite Cheese" should discard any remaining portion of that product or return it to their point of purchase. More information about the voluntary withdrawal is available online at www.mda.mo.gov.