Two 16 year old teens were injured in a fireworks accident in the community of Clarence, located 10 miles east of Macon on Sunday.

According to authorities, the two 16-year-olds were in a garage attempting to take apart fireworks they had purchased.

They were reportedly trying to make a homemade version, when the fireworks exploded.

Both teens were burned on their hands, arms, face and chest. They were transported for medical treatment, however, no details were available.
