Two area residents, Nora Othic of Brookfield and Deena-Leigh Stanley of Carrollton, were recognized for their fine arts entries at the Missouri State Fair.

Ms. Stanley was among the top four four finishers in what's called the Missouri junior top 50. It involved persons ages 13 to 18 exhibiting what were considered the top 50 entries from the various media. The top four finishers each received an 80 dollar cash award.

Four persons also were recognized for being in the Top four of the senior division of the Missouri top 50. They each received an 800 dollar cash award.

In addition to the top four in the junior and senior divisions, the next four persons in each category received honorable mention.

Nora Othic of Brookfield was among those achieving honorable mention in the senior division for persons over age 18.
