The Livingston County Steam and Gas Association sponsors Old Time Harvest Days September 27th through 29th at the fairgrounds at Chillicothe.

It will feature classic and antique tractors, cars, and trucks; antique machinery; steam engines; threshing; corn shelling and grinding; old time skills; various working demonstrations; a garden tractor display; an old planter contest; and a petting zoo.

A dinner will be September 27th and 28th.

Laura Ingalls Wilder stories; a pedal pull, apron and quilt shows, and a tractor rodeo all are on September 28th.

Parades of power are September 28th and 29th, and church services on the 29th.

A musical jam session is September 27th. Todd Young country music is the 28th.

Admission to Old Time Harvest Days is $5. for a 3 day pass. Youths 12 and younger get in free with an adult. There will be camping on the grounds. Electric hookups are $10. a day.
